Accessing your information

Subscriptions, alerts, recent searches, research trails and folders can all be accessed via the top toolbar once you have logged in 1.

Accessing the Practice Areas

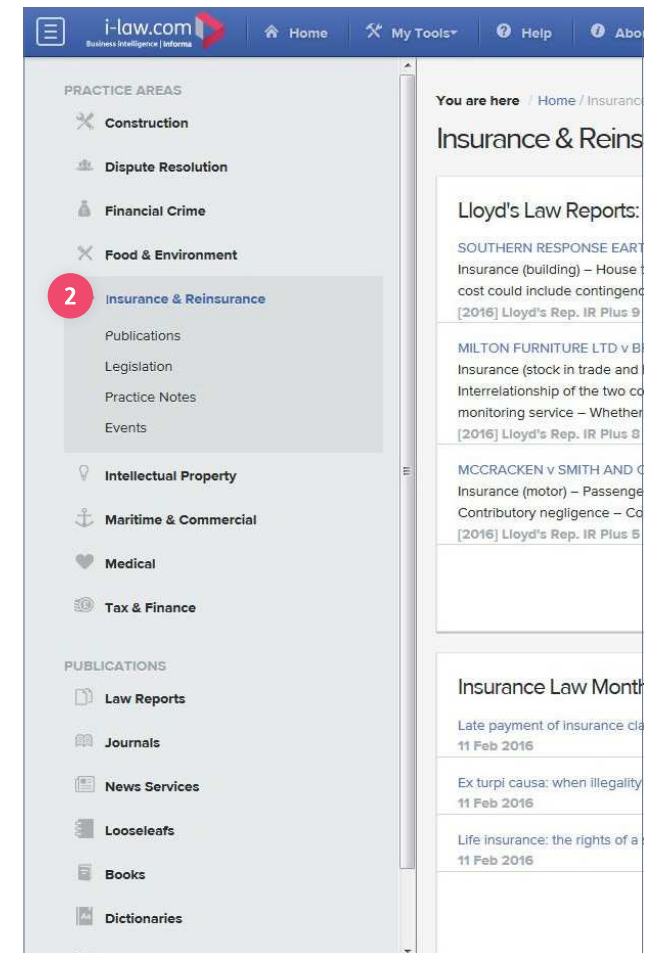

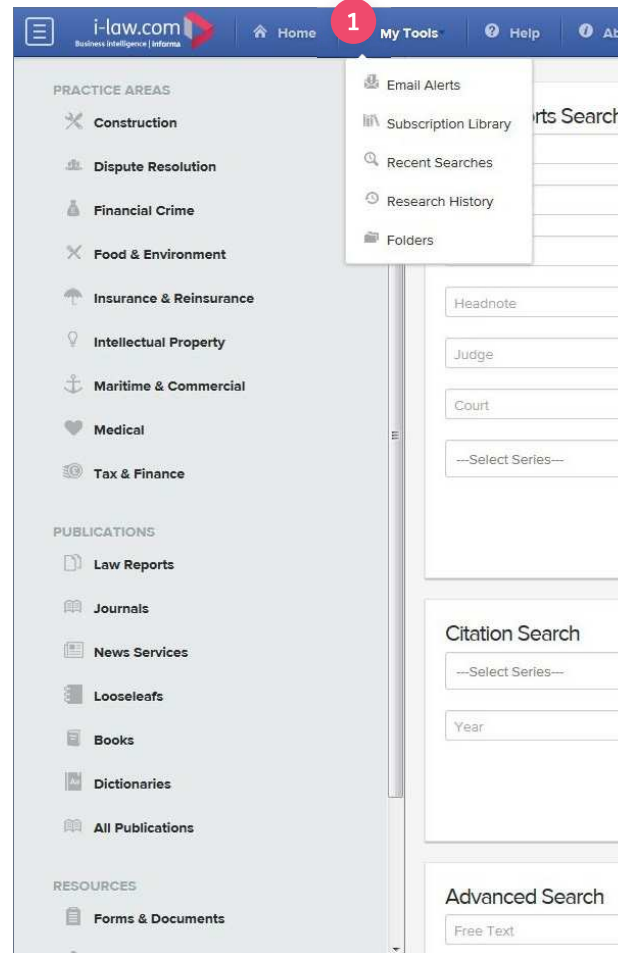

You can access the contents of each of our nine Practice Areas from the navigation menu on the left of your screen.

For example, clicking “Insurance & Reinsurance” will take you to the Insurance & Reinsurance on i-law.com homepage, shown here 2.

Hint

If you are visiting i-law.com from a smartphone or tablet the left hand navigation bar is collapsed automatically using the  icon, but can be expanded using the same icon.

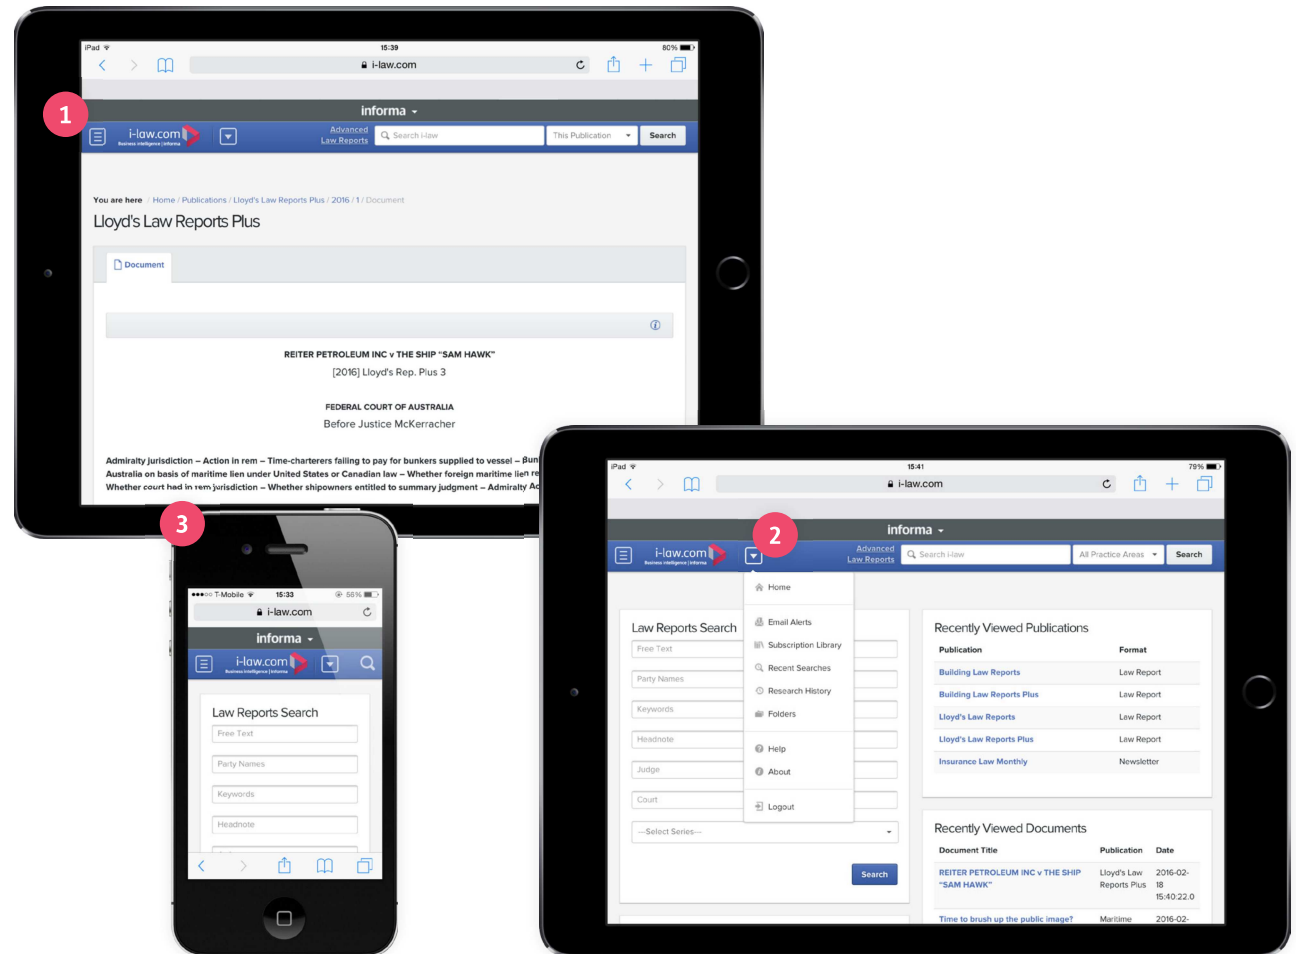

Accessing i-law.com from mobile devices

With i-law.com you can work anywhere. The responsive design allows you convenient access from a smartphone or tablet.

The left hand menu will be hidden, but can be expanded at any time from the top left menu button 1.

You can also expand the  to view your email alerts, subscription library, recent searches, recent history and folders 2.

When using i-law.com on a smart phone, the screen will automatically resize to allow you to view all content by scrolling down the page 3.

Accessing Law Reports from the Homepage

You can access our range of Law Reports by conducting a Law Reports or Citation Search from the i-law.com homepage. The homepage can be accessed from anywhere on the site, simply by clicking the i-law.com logo in the top left of your screen 1.

A selection of recently viewed publications are also displayed on the homepage 2.

After clicking on a Law Report's title, you will be taken to its homepage.

- 3 Click on the year to view archived editions.
- 4 Click on any of the volumes listed for that year and you will be presented with the cases contained in that volume.
- 5 Click on the title of the case you wish to read to view it.

The screenshot displays the i-law.com homepage and a specific Law Report page. The homepage features a navigation bar with the i-law.com logo (1), a search bar, and a list of practice areas. A sidebar on the left lists various publications, including Law Reports (2). The main content area shows a 'Law Reports Search' section and a 'Recently Viewed Publications' table. The table lists several publications, including 'Building Law Reports', 'Building Law Reports Plus', 'Lloyd's Law Reports', 'Lloyd's Law Reports Plus', and 'Insurance Law Monthly'. Below this is a 'Recently Viewed Documents' section. The bottom section of the homepage shows 'You are here / Home / Publications / Lloyd's Law Reports' and 'Lloyd's Law Reports' with a RSS icon. The specific Law Report page shows a list of cases for the year 2016 (3). The cases are listed in a table with columns for the case title, practice area, and volume. The first case is 'CASTLETON COMMODITIES SHIPPING CO PTE LTD v SILVER ROCK INVESTMENTS (THE "CLIPPER MONARCH")' (4). The second case is 'IPCO (NIGERIA) LTD v NIGERIAN NATIONAL PETROLEUM CORPORATION' (5). The third case is 'IPCO (NIGERIA) LTD v NIGERIAN NATIONAL PETROLEUM CORPORATION'. The fourth case is 'TAURUS PETROLEUM LTD v STATE OIL MARKETING COMPANY OF THE MINISTRY OF OIL, REPUBLIC OF IRAQ'. The fifth case is 'CAVENDISH SQUARE HOLDING BV v EL MAKDESSI; PARKINGEYE LTD v BEAVIS'.

Accessing other resources

Publication categories can be found on the left navigation bar. Simply click on the type of resource you would like to view and you will be taken to a list of what is available.

You can narrow the list of resources to cover a specific Practice Area, for example, Maritime and Commercial, by clicking in the “Filter Publication” box and typing in your required Practice Area 1.

Books on i-law.com

i-law.com contains selected books published in the maritime, insurance, construction and dispute resolution areas. Books published since 2013 have hyperlinked indexes, allowing you to jump straight to the topic you need 2.

How do I navigate with the “breadcrumb trail”?

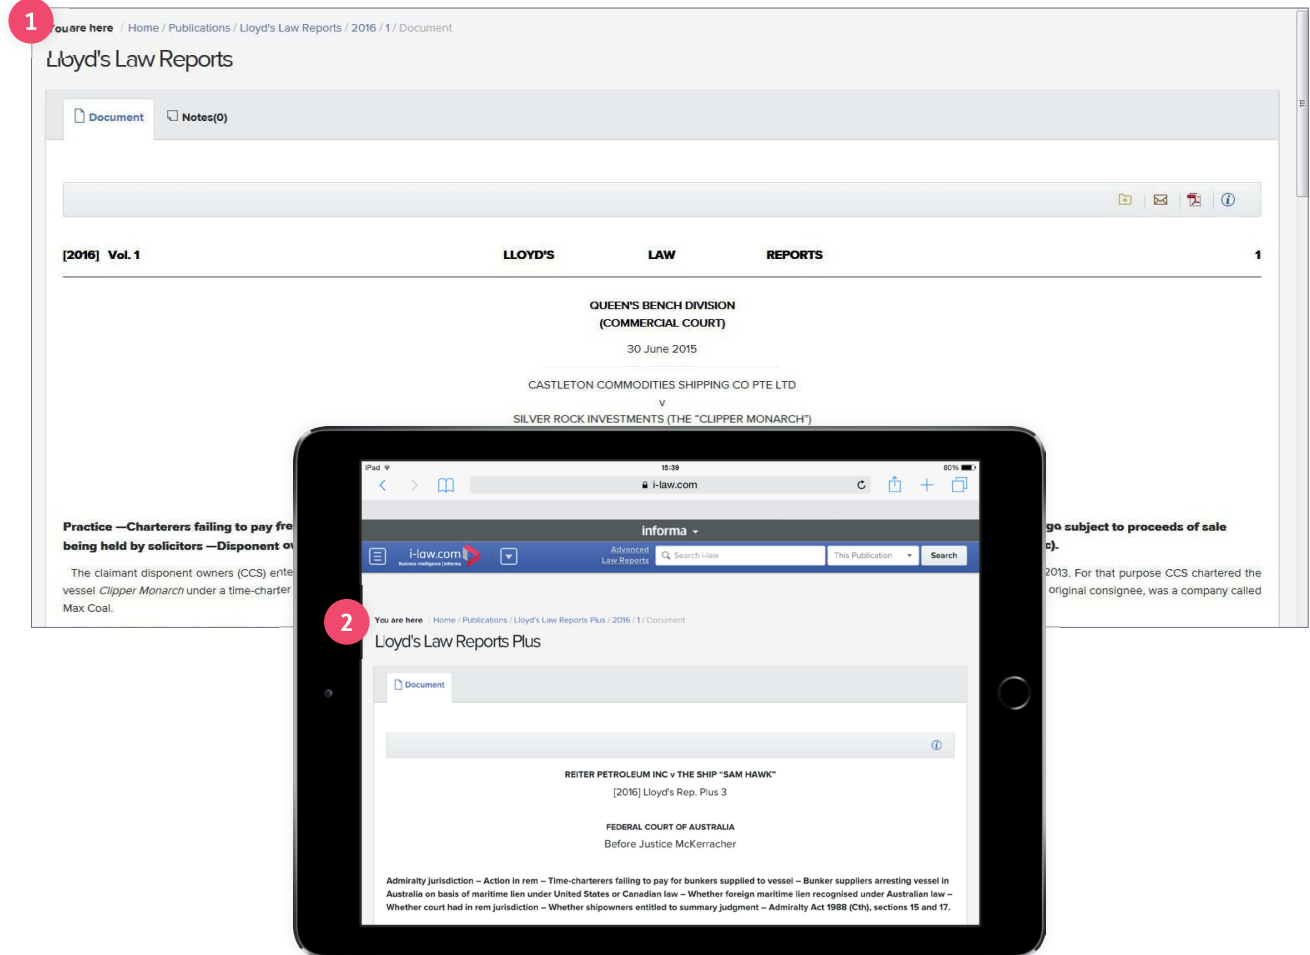

i-law.com features a “breadcrumb trail” in the top left of your screen 1, underneath the main toolbar. These “breadcrumbs” instantly let you know where you are on the site, displaying, for example, the volume and the year of the resource you are viewing.

You can click on any element of the breadcrumb trail to be taken to that area, for example:

Clicking “Home” in the breadcrumb trail will take you back to the i-law.com homepage

- ▶ Clicking “Publications” will take you to the list of publications available on i-law.com
- ▶ Clicking on “Lloyd’s Law Reports” will take you to the homepage for this title
- ▶ Clicking on “22016013” will take you back to a list of all the volumes available for that year
- ▶ Clicking “2” will take you back to the contents for that volume

The breadcrumb trail is also available when accessing i-law.com from a portable device 2.

Quick searches

Three types of searches are available on i-law.com:

- ▶ quick searches
- ▶ Law Report searches FIND OUT MORE
- ▶ advanced searches FIND OUT MORE

Quick search

You can conduct a “quick search” from any page on i-law.com using the “Search” box in the main toolbar.

Simply enter a search term in the box. You can choose to narrow your search by a particular Practice Area using the drop down menu on the right 1.

Hint

Enter quotation marks around two or more keywords in the Search box to search for that exact phrase 2. If you leave off the quotation marks, i-law.com will perform an “AND” search, seeking out both / all terms.

The screenshot shows the i-law.com search interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Tools', 'Help', 'About', and 'Logout'. The main search bar is labeled 'Advanced Law Reports' and contains the text 'Costa Concordia'. To the right of the search bar is a dropdown menu for 'All Practice Areas' with a red circle '1' next to it. The dropdown menu is open, showing a list of practice areas: 'All Practice Areas', 'Construction', 'Dispute Resolution', 'Financial Crime', 'Food and Environment', 'Insurance and Reinsurance', 'Intellectual Property', 'Maritime and Commercial' (highlighted), 'Medical', and 'Tax and Finance'. Below the search bar, there is a 'Law Reports Search' section with input fields for 'Free Text', 'Party Names', 'Keywords', 'Headnote', 'Judge', 'Court', and a 'Select Series' dropdown. A 'Search' button is located at the bottom right of this section. To the right of the search bar, there is a 'Recently Viewed Publications' section with a list of publications: 'Building Law Reports', 'Building Law Reports Plus', 'Lloyd's Law Reports', 'Lloyd's Law Reports Plus', and 'Insurance Law Monthly'. Below this, there is a 'Recently Viewed Documents' section with a table of documents. The table has three columns: 'Document Title', 'Publication', and 'Date'. The documents listed are: 'CASTLETON COMMODITIES SHIPPING CO PTE LTD v SILVER ROCK INVESTMENTS (THE "CLIPPER MONARCH")', 'Index', 'EXMEK PHARMACEUTICALS SAC v ALKEM LABORATORIES LTD', 'CAVENDISH SQUARE HOLDING BV v TALAL EL MAKDESSI PARKINGEYE LTD v BEAVIS', and 'MT HOJGAARD A/S v E.ON CLIMATE AND RENEWABLES UK'. A red circle '2' is placed over the search bar, indicating the location for entering a search term.

Law Report searches

You can conduct a Law Report search from the i-law.com homepage 1 and also from the homepages of the following practice areas:

- ▶ Maritime & Commercial
- ▶ Insurance & Reinsurance
- ▶ Construction
- ▶ Financial Crime
- ▶ Medical

Complete a general Law Report search by using free text, party names, keywords, headnotes, judge, court or Law Report series.

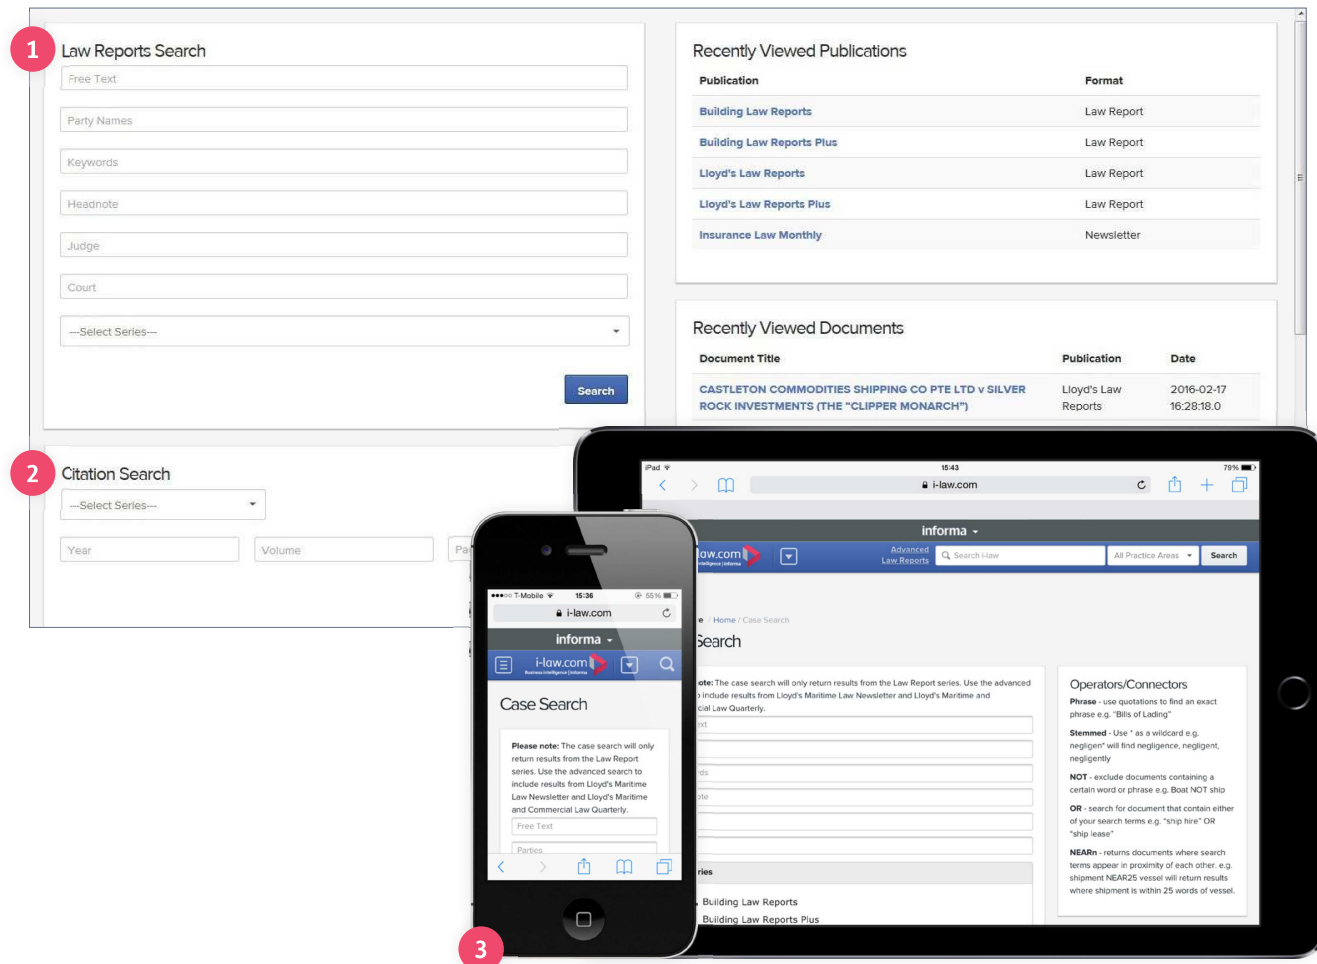

Citation searches are also available. Search by series, year, volume and page number 2.

Hint

When searching by date the results shown will be the date the case was covered/reported, rather than the date the case was heard in court.

You can access the Case Search function by clicking on the “Law Report” button in the top menu bar of any screen.

i-law.com’s responsive design means that the case search screen will re-size to allow you to enter your search 3.

Conducting advanced searches

Advanced searches can help you find specific information quickly, narrowing your search to seek out specific cases, topics, rulings and more.

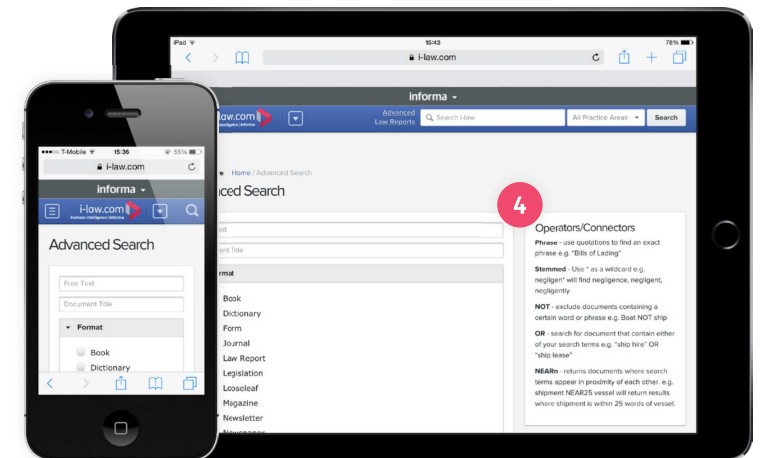

Click “Advanced” on the main toolbar and you will be taken to a new screen 1.

Conducting Free Text searches

To conduct an advanced search, enter the information you want to search for in one of the following fields:

- ▶ Free Text – returns results with your search term in any section of the document 2
- ▶ Document Title – returns results with your search term in the document title 3

Then further refine your search by selecting the ‘Practice Area Series’, the ‘format’ of the publications, the ‘Practice Area’ you would like to restrict results to and/or the ‘Date Range’ you would like to search in.

Using Operators/Connectors

Operators/Connectors allow you to further refine your search by searching for an exact phrase, by excluding terms, searching for alternative wordings or for terms near each other and more 4.

To conduct a search using an operator/connector, first enter your search term in the relevant box then simply type in the operator/connector.

Narrowing your search results

You can quickly refine your search using these filters:

1 Narrow by Practice Area:

If you have not chosen to narrow your search by Practice Area, you can do so by clicking on one of those listed. The number of results contained in each Practice Area is listed in brackets.

2 Narrow by Format:

Narrow by format presents a range of formats (e.g. Law Report, newsletter) with the number of results listed in brackets. Click on the format to view those results.

3 Narrow by Publication:

Narrow by publication allows you to narrow your search to show only those results found in a particular title, with the number of results in that title listed in brackets. Click on the publication to view those results.

The screenshot shows a search results page with the following elements:

- Top Bar: "You are here / Home / Advanced Search / Search Results"
- Search Results Header: "Search Results"

The image shows two screenshots of the i-Law platform. The top screenshot displays the 'Search Results' page for the query 'Costa Concordia'. It shows 461 results, with the first page displaying three articles. The first article is 'THE WRECK REMOVAL CONVENTION 2007' from Lloyd's Maritime and Commercial Law Quarterly, dated 12 Feb 2016. The second article is 'Time to brush up the public image?' from Maritime Risk International, dated 04 Feb 2016. The third article is 'Tianjin casts long shadow over quiet marine insurance year' from Insurance Day, dated 04 Feb 2016. The right sidebar offers filters for 'Practice Area' (Insurance And Reinsurance, Maritime And Commercial, Food And Environment, Dispute Resolution) and 'Format' (Newspaper, Online News Service, Magazine, Newsletter, Book, Journal). The bottom screenshot shows the full document view for 'Time to brush up the public image?'. It includes a toolbar with options like 'Document 2 of 461', 'Back to Search Results', 'Remove Highlight', and 'Highlighted term'. The document text discusses the history of public awareness of shipping and the impact of global trade.

Time to brush up the public image?

Emma Park, a London-based pupil barrister, looks at the relationship between shipping and the media

The history of the public awareness of shipping in recent decades is the history of an uneasy relationship, with lack of comprehension on both sides. As the demand for container and specialist terminals has risen, and as governments have stepped up security in the wake of 9/11, trading ports have become much more isolated from their environs. Most people only see container ships and bulk carriers from a distance, either from the beach, an aeroplane, or the comfort of a cruise ship. Even in the 21st century, the high seas remain a perilous environment, on which most people spend little time. Despite the encroachments of exclusive economic zones, artificial islands and continental shelf claims, they are still largely a jurisdictional no-man's land.

When campaigners draw attention to the impact of global trade, their coverage tends to be of the communities affected at the production or consumer end, rather than the vessels that are responsible for transporting the goods between the two. This is despite the fact that global trade as it is today would have been unthinkable without the rise of the container ship in the last 50 years. A fascinating account of this is given by Marc Levinson in The Box: How the Shipping Container Made the World Smaller and the World Economy Bigger (Princeton, 2006).

With trade secrets and high-value investments involved, uneasy relations with competition authorities and traditions of family ownership of fleets, it is unsurprising shipping has a reputation as a secretive business. Even the seafarers

Alerts

With “My Search Alerts” you can modify alerts which notify you each time a topic that you are interested in has been updated on i-law.com.

Click on the top tool bar and select “Email Alerts”

Simply give your alert a meaningful, memorable name.

From here you can modify your search alerts or see the “search results”.

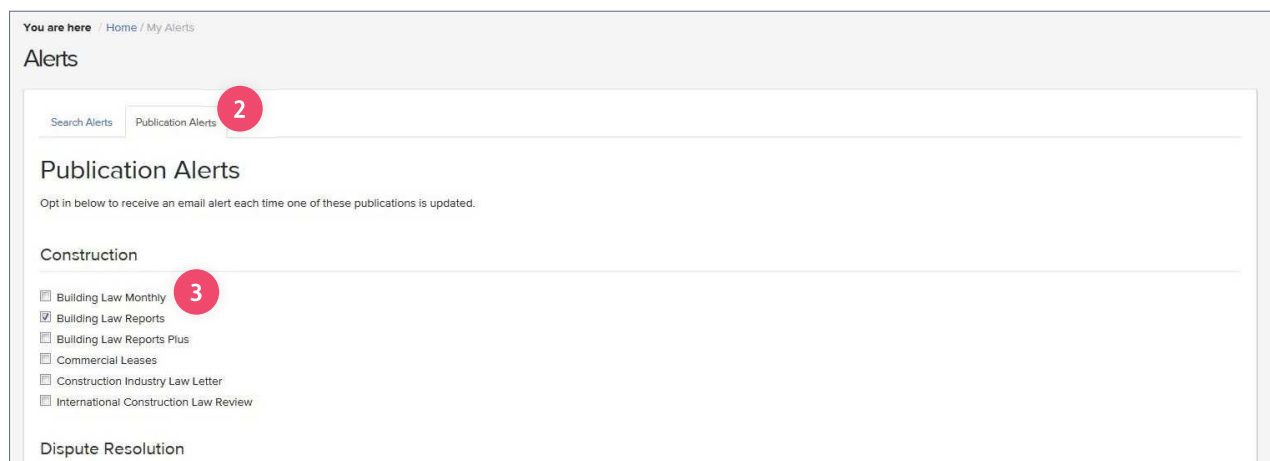

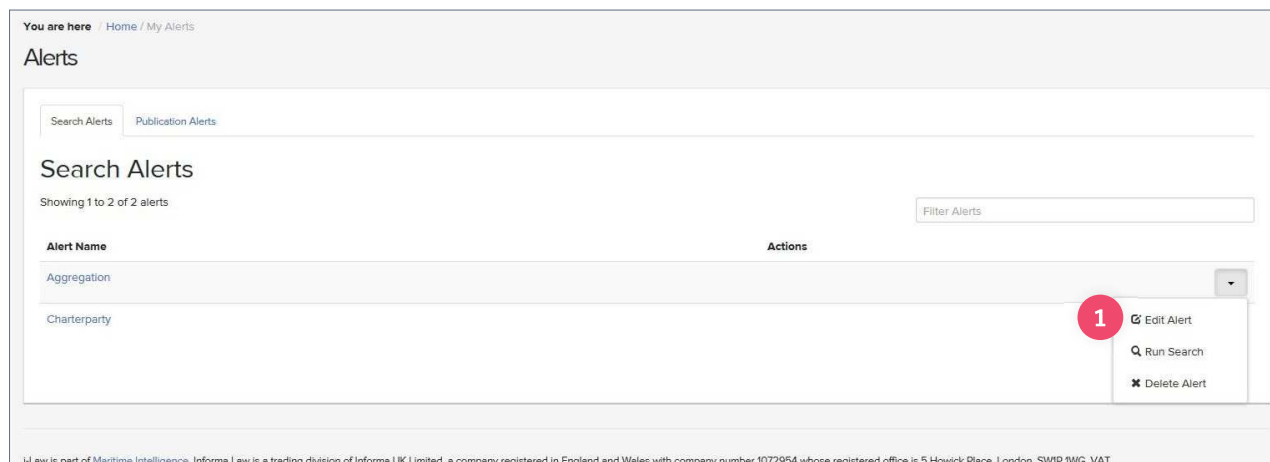

If you wish, narrow your alert to a particular sector or type of publication using the drop down menus 1.

Click “Save” or click “Run” to run the alert now.

To create an alert for a publication, click the “Publication Alerts” tab at the top of the Email Alerts screen 2.

Here you will find a full list of publications. Check the boxes for any publication/s you wish to receive alerts for. Click “Update” 3.

You will now receive email alerts when new content is added to the publication.

Creating search alerts

Search alerts will keep you updated with new content that is specifically relevant to your frequent search terms.

To create a search alert, enter your search term in the quick search box on the top menu bar 1. From the search results page click on the save button to create your alert. Simply enter the alert name and specify the alert type, practice area and the maximum number of documents your alert should contain and click on Save 2.

To access your saved search alerts, click on the top tool bar and select 'Email Alerts' 3.

To Edit, Run or Delete an alert, click and select 4 from the drop down menu.

The screenshot illustrates the process of creating and managing search alerts on the Informa UK Limited website. The interface is divided into several sections:

- Top Navigation Bar: Contains links for 'Tools', 'Help', 'About', and 'Logout'. A search bar is located on the right, with the text 'Advanced Law Reports' and a search button. A red circle 1 highlights the search bar.
- Search Results Page: Displays the results of a search for 'charterparty'. The page shows 'Your search has returned 6793 results' and 'Showing page 1 of 272'. A red circle 2 highlights the 'Save as Alert' button in the top right corner of the search results area.

The 'Alerts' table lists the following alerts:

Alert Name	Alert Type	Practice Area	Maximum Number of Documents
Freight Connect (S) Pte Ltd v Paragon Shipping Pte Ltd	Law Report	Maritime And Commercial (6439)	10
Louis Dreyfus Commodities Ltd v Paragon Shipping Pte Ltd	Law Report	Dispute Resolution (144)	10
