FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is the UN iLibrary?

The United Nations iLibrary is an online collection providing easy access to thousands of books, reports and journals created by the United Nations. This is the first time United Nations knowledge is available for search, viewing, share and download in one place.

What are the key features of the UN iLibrary?

The UN iLibrary platform offers useful research features: full-text search, user-friendly navigation, granular search results down to the article and chapter level, and a citation tool.

What types of content can I find on the UN iLibrary?

It includes books, working papers, journals and datasets from the 50+ UN departments & agencies, covering a wide range of the UN's priority issues such as international peace and security, human rights, economic and social development, climate change, and more.

How many titles are currently available on the UN iLibrary?

There are 7,000+ titles on the platform. About 1,000 additional titles are added every year.

Is there multilingual content?

Yes. Content is available in the six official languages of the United Nations, and more.

Can I access UN iLibrary on a tablet?

The platform is optimized for both desktop and mobile devices.

Can I download the content on my computer?

Anyone anywhere in the world with an internet connection can search, read, share and embed all United Nations books and journals via the READ Online feature. Content can be downloaded if your institution has a subscription.

How can I subscribe to the UN iLibrary for full access?

UN iLibrary subscriptions are available to public and private institutions, libraries and organizations. We suggest you contact your library to see if they hold a subscription to the UN iLibrary. Subscription features allow for institution-wide use and download of the UN iLibrary content as well as provide specific resources to libraries for cataloguing and analytics.

Our institution has a UN iLibrary subscription. We are having difficulties accessing the content on the site. What should we do?

Please write to UN-iLibrary@oecd.org with your institution's information and description of the error message. Our customer service staff will get in touch to assist you.
